TATTOO WHO?

WHO'S WEARING THIS TEMPORARY TATTOO DEDICATED TO HIS MUM, AND WHAT PAGE IS HE ON? ANSWER ON PAGE 23.

It's _____ on page _____

BENEATH THE SEA

Trigge

The colourful triggerfish lives near coral reefs. This is a titan triggerfish, the biggest of them all. It can grow to 75cm across*.

* That's almost twice as wide as these two pages!

Ha ha ha

Do tooth fairies take half a tooth?

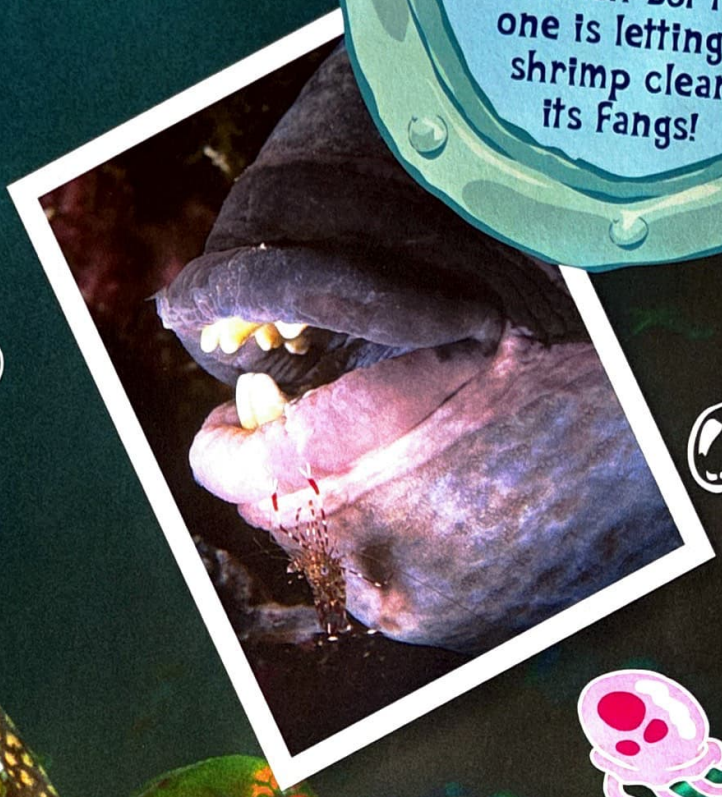
No, they want the whole tooth and nothing but the tooth!

DON'T WORRY, GARY! I'LL PROTECT YOU!

Triggerfish pick up stones from the sea bed to prepare a sandy hollow as a nest.

rFish

Watch out! This protective parent gives a nasty bite!



IT'S A FACT

The triggerfish has very strong teeth. It uses them to crunch on shellfish but this one is letting a shrimp clean its fangs!

When it's laid its eggs, the triggerfish will chase and attack any creature that comes near it, including divers!

Take a bite out of the next page!

FISHY FILE

Clown Triggerfish

This speckly triggerfish is easy to SPOT around coral reefs!

PROFILE: Clown triggerfish
SIZE:	Up to 50cm
FOUND:	Shallow warm waters near shores
DIET:	Shellfish, sea urchins, coral tips, sponges and small fish

LOCKED IN

The triggerfish gets its name from a fin on its back that lifts up and locks, like a trigger. The clown triggerfish uses this to wedge itself into a safe hole on a reef.

BIG BITER

A triggerfish will attack a diver near its nest and even take a bite out of the diver's fins as he swims away!

THE FLIPSIDE

Triggerfish love to munch on spiky sea urchins but they're smart enough to flip them over to get to the juicy bit underneath.
